

Prompt A continuous photorealistic walking shot in stable early-autumn daylight. First clearly observe the timber carriage workshop with its roof cupola and separate tall rectangular brick chimney, together with the crates on its left and the low loading barn on its right. Walk continuously around the solid foreground warehouse on the left, keeping attention on the same subject. The solid occluder must briefly hide the entire subject; then reveal the same subject again from the changed position after passing the occluder. Preserve the subject's geometry, appearance and fixed neighbor arrangement throughout. One location, no scene cut.
